Theme: Finding our Ground

Finding our Ground

Sep 1

Rev. Brian J Kiely

As the calendar page turns, let us regather and note the start of the new church year. It's time to reflect on the summer (such as it was!) and shake hands with people we might not have seen for a while.

On Unitarian Ground

Sep 8

Rev. Brian J Kiely

It can be difficult to be part of a religion that has no creed. What connects us? Inspires us? Guides us? I think it is a set of ideas and principles based on a common theology.

On This Rock...

Sep 15

Rev. Brian J Kiely

Today we install the Board of Trustees that will guide our church in the next year. And while my title is a bit pretentious, it's important to remember that the ground of this congregation is its people, especially those willing to serve and lead.

Erin Vandermolen-Pater will be our guest musician, courtesy of Larry and Louise Charach

Yin and Yang

Sep 22

Rev. Brian J Kiely

In these days of polarization about nearly everything, it seems the world is out of balance. The Taoist philosophy of seeking balance and harmony might be a useful base on which to build.

Making The World Better

Sep 29

Social Justice

At deadline the details of this service have not been lined up. This service will present an issue of concern and perhaps propose some potential solutions.

MINISTERIAL MUSINGS

The theme for this month is “Finding Our Ground”. Perhaps I was prescient when I picked it a few months ago. I am suddenly aware that I am beginning my last five months as the minister of this congregation. I am facing quite a change in my life after more than 22 years. There are days when I get that little electric shock of anxiety about that. I need to reconnect with what grounds me.

There is nothing unique about that. Every one of us faces change at times. To cope with it we have to find that thing that keep us balanced and secure and grounded as we go through it.

Maybe it's family or friends, maybe it's a spiritual practice of some kind, maybe it's a routine activity like exercise or volunteer work, gardening or housecleaning. It's a familiar thing that reminds us of what we like and love, what we are good at or maybe just something calming or even distracting.

Distraction: On August 18 and 19 I again rode in the Enbridge Ride to Conquer Cancer for the seventh time. 208 kilometers of hilly cycling over two days raising funds to support cancer research, I am proud to say I finished. It was also a great road trip with my youngest daughter who worked in our Team Cross Cancer support van. Cycling is a grounding activity for me, and the training required for this event proved a great distraction as well. This is my first day in the office after that. Distraction is over... now it's time to commit to my last few months here and to the work of sorting my post UCE future.

And it's time for the congregation to think about what comes next. We are convening a worship planning meeting to work on the February to June Sunday schedule. The Board is working on their planning tasks as are other groups in the church. There will no doubt be future focused conversations. I hope you choose to participate. The members have always been the ground of this congregation, so your thoughts and dreams will be needed.

We will all have to find our grounding in different ways to make this next year flow smoothly.

See you in church!

Brian

THE 'JEAN' HOUSE

'Carter Place' is a community of 58 homes built by Habitat for Humanity. It is named after Jimmie Carter and his wife Rosalyn who spent time on the site with Habitat volunteers 2 years ago in giving their support to a human rights effort they dearly believe in. On August 15th, 5 homes and a playground were dedicated to their financial sponsors with keys being turned over to new home owners. 14 homes remain to be built. Every other year an Edmonton Law Group sponsors a home with 8 now completed. This year, former UCE member and lawyer Jean McBean was recognized for her efforts and enormous support toward the betterment of lives in our city. Among her many endeavours she dedicated years of time and energy to the arm of Legal Aid especially for women. In a ceremony on a beautiful sunny morning, Jean's husband John Worton and daughter Bevin turned over the keys to a new five-bedroom home at the Carter Place site in Mill Woods. Single parent Saada and her 4 children are now its proud owners.

RE PROGRAM

Hello everyone, welcome back to a new year. Helping with the planning committee for the WRFG, which will be hosted here at UCE this year, has inspired to think about not only our future but our past as well. Inspiring me to come back to basics so to speak with the programs this year.

- Each of these topics will have elements of past, present, and future.

Classes:

Welcome to UCE - An Accessible Place

We take pride in the easy access to our facility on many levels and we are always trying to improve our welcome.

Social media allows for even more accesibility.

There are many people that can not physically make it to our building but we still want them to feel included in our community. Social media allows many people to be able to participate with us and keep up on UCE and UU news.

Changes to Facebook this year have made it very hard for pages to reach the people who have liked them, much less new folks.

We need your likes and comments to get Facebook to see our posts as important to their algorithm. Shares are great too; if you think your friends might appreciate seeing them.

We appreciate your participation, whatever form it takes. We don't have a huge budget for paying to get posts seen, so we count on you all to spread them.

Membership

Visitors are always welcome and can participate easily and without obligation.

If you are at least 16 years of age and in general sympathy with our purposes and program, we invite you to become a member by completing a Membership Application which you can drop off to the membership desk, minister, church office or e-mail to church administrator (chadmin@uce.ca).

There is no creedal test and no obligatory ceremony connected with becoming a member. All members, however, are expected to take an interest in their church and to contribute as they are able, both financially and through service (please see volunteer opportunities on the church credenza and in the newsletters). Please visit our Donations & Planned Giving page for more information on financial donations.

We welcome you to a church that is a fellowship of seekers, dreamers and doers.

ADULT PROGRAM

Theme Talk: Struggles in Being Black in Canadian Society: 9:00 – 9:45 a.m.

Presenter: Wilburn Hayden. Wilburn is a Professor Emeritus, School of Social Work, York University (see the speaker bio below under Stream 1)

Stream 1: Dismantling Racism and White Privilege

Honouring our First Principle: 10:00 a.m. – noon (2 hours) and 3:45 – 5:00 p.m. (1.25 hours)

Presenters: Patricia Trudeau & Wilburn Hayden

Description: In three sessions spanning the workshop day, Wilburn and Patricia will share their experiences and knowledge about racism and anti-racism work in Canada. Expect an interactive day of insight and challenge. Participants are welcome to attend any of the three sessions. The workshop objectives are best accomplished by participating in all three.

Speaker Bio: Wilburn is a Professor Emeritus, School of Social Work, York University. With his partner Rev. Patricia Trudeau, he has been offering education on racism in various community settings including many UU groups.

Patricia Trudeau

Stream 2: Climate Justice & Energy Solutions

Building a Just Transition: 10:00 a.m. – noon (2 hours)

Presenters: Emma Jackson and Gabrielle Gelderman

Emma Jackson

In the face of climate catastrophe and deepening economic inequality, we need a bold vision that meets the scale of the crisis we face. Join organizers from Climate Justice Edmonton as we envision a transformative Green New Deal for Canada— one that upholds Indigenous rights, protects all workers, and enshrines dignity and justice for all. We'll talk about the critical role churches and faith communities have played in social movements in the past and why this critical juncture in history requires them, once again, to find their place in the climate justice movement.

Speaker Bios: Born on unceded Algonquin and Anishinaabe territory, Emma Jackson is a fourth generation settler on Treaty 6 territory. Gabrielle and Emma are both organizers and co-founders of Climate Justice Edmonton, a grassroots collective organizing for social and environmental justice on Treaty 6 territory. Climate Justice Edmonton seeks to empower individuals and communities to take action on climate change, support Indigenous resistance, challenge harmful corporate and political practices, and work towards justice-based solutions.

Energy Solutions: 2:15 – 3:30 p.m. (1.25 hrs)

Presenter: Lisa Y. Stein

It's often difficult to think of energy solutions outside the perspective of the oil and gas industry. However, renewable resources are plentiful, and transformative technologies aimed at replacing oil and gas with renewable resources is entirely plausible within 10-30 years. We will explore sources of renewable energy, work that Dr. Stein and others are doing to bring sustainable energy solutions into mainstream society, and paths for removing sociopolitical roadblocks that stand in the way of transforming our energy systems.

Lisa Y. Stein

Speaker Bio: Dr. Lisa Stein is a microbiology professor at the University of Alberta in the Department of Biological Sciences. Her work focuses on the biological transformation of industrial waste streams into value-added products using microorganisms. She is part of the Future Energy Systems group at the UofA and her lab group focuses on the conversion of methane gas into bioplastics and liquid biojet fuels, and nitrogen use efficiency in vertical farming operations.

From Climate Grief to Action: 3:45 – 5:00 PM (1.25 hrs)

Presenters: Gabrielle Gelderman and Emma Jackson

Gabrielle
Gelderman

Though the true scale of the climate crisis is incomprehensible, there are certain losses that we each feel deeply (and differently) and can bear witness to. Join us as we give words to our experiences of loss, and in doing so, make space for personal and collective action.

Speaker Bio: Gabrielle is a third-generation settler on Treaty 6 territory and has worked here as a community support worker, an environmental educator, and a farm hand. She is now in grad school studying Christian theology and climate grief.

Stream 3: Choral Music Workshops

Choral Music: 10:00 a.m. – noon (2 hours), 2:25 – 3:30 p.m. and 3:45 – 5:00 p.m. (1.25 hours)

Kimberly Denis

(Mount Allison University) is known for her energy and enthusiasm both on stage and off, and is sought after as a soloist, choral clinician, vocal coach, and adjudicator for voice and choir. The Unitarian Church of Edmonton is a liberal, multi-generational, religious community. We celebrate a rich mosaic of free-thinking, spiritually-questing individuals joined in common support and action. We welcome diversity including diversity of beliefs from divine believers to humanists, from pagans to atheists and agnostics. We believe in the compassion of the human heart, the warmth of community, the pursuit of justice and the search of meaning in our lives.

We gather with gratitude on traditional Cree lands that are now a part of Treaty Six and shared by many nations. A treaty is an inheritance, a responsibility and a relationship. May we be good neighbours to one another, good stewards to our planet and good ancestors to our children.
