Sunday Services at the UCE

October 2Where Do You Go to Find Courage?ChorealisThe Cowardly Lion went to the Wizard of Oz to find courage. Dory repeated, "Just keep swimming" when she was anxious in Finding Nemo. Merida, an atypical princess, had to look in many places to discover her own courage in the movie Brave. We're not movie characters though. Where or what can we look to in scary or daunting times?

October 9Giving thanks for Sacred SpaceLewis CardinalThis Thanksgiving Sunday, we harvest bushels of strength for one another, and offer our crop with the hands of compassion and generosity. Our guest speaker Lewis Cardinal will be talking about Kihciy Askiy ('Sacred Earth' in Cree); a permanent Indigenous ceremonial and cultural site within the City of Edmonton. We will ask Lewis, "What does the idea of reconciliation mean to a group like UCE?"

October 16 Stepping Out: The Courage to Let Ourselves be Known

Rev. Rosemary Morrison

Why does it take so much courage to let down our guard and be truly seen for who and what we are? October is LGBTQ2+ month, and October 11th is National Coming Out day. Let's join together and celebrate courage and vulnerability in story, music, and ritual.

October 23 Where Do You Find Hope? Rev. Rosemary Morrison Being hopeful is an act of courage. And courage is born of vulnerability. How can we find the courage to be hopeful and help bring justice into the world and our daily lives?

October 30 Celebrating Samhain: The Thinning of the Veil

Rev. Rosemary Morrison

They say that the veil between dimensions is the thinnest this time of year. We are also marking the end of harvest season. In this service we will honour our ancestors and celebrate the changing of the seasons.

Minister's Reflection : The Path of Courage

Quote: All around you, people will be tiptoeing through life, just to arrive at death safely. But dear children, do not tiptoe. Run, hop, skip, or dance! Shane Claiborne

One of the requirements I had to complete on my journey to ministry was to take a psychological assessment. I traveled to Seattle, Washington to spend the weekend with psychologists who turned me upside down and inside out. Thankfully they decided I was fit for ministry; however, they did let me know that I had a pretty high tolerance for risk. I found that disturbing until a very successful leader and mentor I admired told me they found the same thing in them. I guess it's okay to be tolerant of risk, and be a good leader and minister.

But that doesn't mean it's okay to take unnecessary risks. I have learned to temper my desire to run, hop, skip, and leap through life with the necessity of stability, responsibility, and integrity, especially while in leadership. I wonder if it's the same for us here at UCE. What a fine line we have to balance in our congregation if we want to play it safe, and also carry out a vision that will allow us to be the vibrant community I think we wish to be.

This month, our Soul Matters Theme is: The Path of Courage. You now have a link to the small group packet, and I encourage you to go through it. It is an amazing resource of music, poetry, spiritual exercises, questions to ponder, videos, blogs, and pod casts. Even if you choose not to join a Soul Matters small group, this resource will help you dig deeper into the monthly theme. As I read through it, I felt inspired and challenged, and I think you will too.

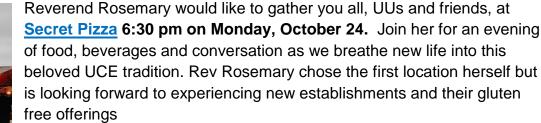

As we embark on theme based small group gatherings, think about whether or not you would like to enliven and enrich your experience by being in a small group. In these groups you will learn to listen well, as well as be given opportunity to discuss and share your thoughts and feelings. Please email me at: minister@uce.ca if you would like to be included in this new and exciting adult educational program. I hope you do!

In peace, Rev. Rosemary

Rentals Helper

Our church has all sorts of renters, from chefs to singers to teachers. The rentals committee helps with that, giving advice on rentals of our church space, and negotiating leases with major tenants at the front of the building. We could use a new member or two; it's not a lot of work, and it's an interesting glimpse into the rental side of our building.

If you're interested, contact chair Susan Ruttan at ruttans@shaw.ca

Land Acknowledgement

In accordance with our principles, we acknowledge with gratitude that we gather on traditional Cree lands that are now a part of Treaty Six and shared by many nations. A treaty is an inheritance, a responsibility and a relationship. May we be good neighbours to one another, good stewards to our planet and good ancestors to our children.

Join the Tech Team!

It's time to start church services for the new year! Join us on the tech team to help us produce and record these services. We are looking for people to help with the sound board, cameras, production, slides, zoom greeting, and recording. We provide training. Contact Andrew at andrew@misc.ca for more information.

Soul Matters Small Group Ministry

"Each month I waited eagerly for the package to arrive and never did it disappoint. I go through the contents and follow through on links. There is a big variety of sources - all meaningful. It feeds my soul." (Pauline Atwood)

You are very warmly invited to participate in small groups connected to our Soul Matters monthly worship themes, with a unique practice component that helps us not just think about the themes, but to live them.

Soul Matters Small Groups invite people to deepen their connection to self, others, and spirit, through regular monthly meetings and individual reflection and spiritual practice. It enhances the practice of deep listening and provides an opportunity to hear others and to be heard in ways that doesn't happen often in the rest of our lives. It's a process that can lead to knowing each other and ourselves more deeply. Each participant gets a packet of resource material before the meetings to help them explore the theme on their own, as well. Soul Matters Small Groups consist of 6-9 people, one of whom acts as facilitator, who meet once a month for 2 hours, plus reflection and practice time on your own. Participants are asked to commit to 1 year. Please contact Reverend Rosemary at minister@uce.ca if you would like to join a small group that will be starting in October.

Listen Everywhere

We have installed the Listen Everywhere service to replace our aging FM radios. This system will be in use for every service and available everywhere in the Church building and some of the parking lot.

To use the system, you will need to download and install the Listen Everywhere app from the google store, or apple store and you will need to connect to the UCE WIFI (password posted in church). Once you have done both steps, just open the app and start the session. It allows you to listen using your own headset, wireless earbuds, or if your phone is connected to your hearing aids, you will hear it there. Just as if you are listening to a phone call.

We will have people around to help if you need it, please ask.

Who We Are

The Unitarian Church of Edmonton (UCE) is a liberal, multigenerational, religious community. We celebrate a rich mosaic of free-thinking, spiritually questing individuals joined in common support and action. We welcome a full range of theological perspectives -- from theism to atheism – as well as a full range of spiritual traditions and practices. As a Unitarian Universalist (UU) congregation, we strive to be a community where everyone is able to fully participate, regardless of gender, gender expression, race, colour, ethnic or national origin, religion, sexual/affectional orientation, age, class, physical character or disability.

UCE is a congregation openly and honestly:

- ⊖ Searching for spiritual meaning in our lives
- ⊖ Learning to understand ourselves and others
- ⊖ Connecting to build fair, just, caring communities
- ⊖ Serving each other and our communities near and far

As Canadian Unitarian Universalists, we aspire to be:

Deeply Connected: We strive to foster healthy relationships amongst and within UU communities, with the broader world and with all life

Radically Inclusive: We strive to create hospitable, diverse, multi- generational communities

Actively Engaged: We strive to work joyfully for a just and compassionate society, experimenting with new forms of community.

Theologically Alive: We seek to be ever-evolving in our understanding, open to new knowledge.

Spiritually Grounded: We seek transformation through personal spiritual experiences and shared ritual.

The Principles and Sources of our Religious Faith

UU congregations affirm and promote eight principles, which we hold as strong values and moral guides. As Rev. Barbara Wells ten Hove explains, "The principles are not dogma or doctrine, but rather a guide for those of us who choose to join and participate in UU religious communities."

- ⊖ Justice, equity, and compassion in human relations;
- ⊖ A free and responsible search for truth and meaning;
- The right of conscience and the use of the democratic process within our congregations and in society at large;
- ⊖ The goal of world community with peace, liberty, and justice for all;
- ⊖ Respect for the interdependent web of all existence of which we are a part.
- Individual and communal action that accountably dismantles racism and systemic barriers to full inclusion in ourselves and our institutions

We live out these principles within a "living tradition" of wisdom and spirituality, drawn from such diverse sources as science, poetry, scripture, and personal experience.

Our Six Sources

- Direct experience of that transcending mystery and wonder, affirmed in all cultures, which moves us to a renewal of the spirit and an openness to the forces which create and uphold life;
- Words and deeds of prophetic people which challenge us to confront powers and structures of evil with justice, compassion, and the transforming power of love;
- ⊖ Wisdom from the world's religions which inspires us in our ethical and spiritual life;
- ∃ Jewish and Christian teachings which call us to respond to God's love by loving our neighbours as ourselves;
- Humanist teachings which counsel us to heed the guidance of reason and the results of science, and warn us against idolatries of the mind and spirit;
- General Spiritual teachings of Earth-centred traditions which celebrate the sacred circle of life and instruct us to live in harmony with the rhythms of nature.
- Grateful for the religious pluralism which enriches and ennobles our faith, we are inspired to deepen our understanding and expand our vision. As free congregations we enter into this covenant, promising to one another our mutual trust and support.
